INJUNCTION AGAINST "CHARITY."

Can a Title to a Play be Copyrighted-Motion to Enjoin the Production of "Charity" at the Fifth Avenue Theatre. Isaac S. Isaacs vs. Augustin Daly .- The plaintiff in this case moved yesterday morning for an injunction against the Fifth Avenue Theatre performing the comedy advertised to be produced this by Adolphe L. Sawyer, who read affidavits and made a long argument in support of his applica-tion. The main affidavit is as follows:— PLAINTIFF'S APPIDAVIT:

Thairtiff's APPIDAUT:

Only and County of New Fork, m.—J. Isnac S. Isnaca being daily sworn, says that he is the plaintiff in this action; that he is an attorney and coun enfor-at-law in this city; that he is the author of a comedy or dramatic composition called "Charity;" that, on or about the 19th day of December, 1873, he cansed to be deposited in the office of the interaction of Congress at Washington, D. C., the title of the said composition, the right whereof deponent claimed as author in conformity with the laws of the claimed as author in conformity with the laws of the United States respecting copyrights, whereby deponent became entitled to the exclusive use and enjoyment of said tries to said dramatic composition, as will appear by SCREDULE "A"—NO. 14,655 D.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS,

To wit, be it remembered that on the 19th day of December, A. D. 1873, isaac S. Isaacs, of New York, has deposited in this omee the title of a framatic composition, the title or description of which is in the following words, to wit:—"Charity," a Comedy in a Prologue and three Acts, by Isaac S. Isaacs, the right whereof he cisains as author in conformity with the laws of the United States respecting convigats.

three Acts, by issae S. issaes, the right whereof he ciaims as author in conformity with the laws of the United states respecting copyrights.

A. B. Spufform, Librarian of Congress.

A. Oakey Hall, for the management, read the amdayit of Thomas H. French, the dramatic publisher, and also one from Mr. Daly in opposition.

Mr. Hall, in the first piace, objected to the jurisdiction of the Court and contended that under the Copyright is were could not copyright a mere title when it was admitted that two plays under the same title were wholly different. He also argued that no injury could result to plaintiff entitling him to an injunction, as the two plays were so different in dialogue, characters and situation.

I am propriet and manager of the Firth Avenue Theatre. I have carefully read the complaints and amdavits of the plaintiff, and know the contents thereof. I have no doubt that the certificate of copyright of a mere title to a play, as annexed to the moving papers, is genuine, and that on the day of the date plaintiff sought to copyright as a title to his play the word "charity." But I deav and submit the same, under advice, to the Court that, as distinct from the subject and substance of a aramatic composition, a title thereof can be made existently happerly. Yet that if it can, this tule of "Charity" happerly. Yet that if it can, this tule of "Charity" happerly. Yet that if it can, this tule of "Charity" happerly about to be problemed. It will be a title of other play about to be problemed. So differ, the formance the plaintiff, seeks to story injunction. It has been used in England, as I am informed and believe, and notably in France, as appears by the found believe, and motably in France, as appears by the found believe, and motably in France, as appears by the found believe, and motably in France, as appears by the found believe, and motably in France, as appears by the found believe, and motably in France, as appears by the found believe, and motably in France, as appears by the found believe, and motab

Before Judge Brady.
On the reassembling of the Court yesterday morning the room was again crowded. The eight jurors already selected were promptly in their places, as also were the prosecuting counsel and the prisoner and his counsel. The work of comthe prisoner and his counsel. The work of com-pleting the jury was entered upon at once. At two P. M., however, the new panel of 100 had been exhausted and only two additional jurors obtained, Francis Dorr, soap manufacturer, No. 27 Park avenue, and Frederick Link, market dealer, No. 812 West Thirty-flith street. Another panel of 100 was ordered for this morning, and, after the usual words of caution, the jury were sent to the Astor House in charge of officers.

Application to Release Detective Leahy on Bail. Application was made by counsel to admit to ball Detective Leahy, who shot McNamara, and who, after the inquisition by the Coroner, was committed to the Tombs without bail. It was targed in his behalf by Mr. W. F. Howe that he mistook McNamara for "Dutch Harmon," and that he went to arrest a murderer and not to commit a murder. A letter from Mr. Henry B. McIville, the foreman of the Coroner's upr. was submitted to foreman of the Coroner's jury, was submitted to the Judge, stating that the remaition of the verdict he considered a mere formality; that he believed the officer innocent of ctime; that the thought of wronging him had greatly disturbed him since, and praying the leniency of Judge Brady. District Attorney Phelps opposed the application, insisting that the detectives acted without any legal warrant and that their energy of the house was lilegal warrant before the specific proposed the specific proposed in the house was lilegal warrant and that their energy of the house was lilegal warrant before the facts of the case and render his decision this morning.

Charges of Irregular Practice Against yesterday, was occupied some time with the case of David F. Frank, a lawyer, who had been ordered to show cause why he should not be disbarred. Ex-Judge Davies stated the facts of the dered to show cause why he should not be disbarred. Ex-Judge Davies stated the facts of the case upon which the charge of professional irregularity is based, and claimed that Mr. Frank had acted with entire innocence. The charge, as will be remembered, is that Mr. Frank flied up a power of attorney by which Mr. Conkiin deputed to Dennis Hogan his dutes as Inspector of Election, and through acting upon which Hogan was subsequently convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and sent to the State Prison. It was stated that Conkiin and Hogan called upon Mr.

Ronk, that he did not know either of them, that they came recommended by a client of Mr. Ronk's, that he filled up the power of attorney, and give them no advice in the matter except to call on the chief of the inspectors of election to see if it was all right. He gave Mr. Ronk a high character for probity and ability in his profession, and hoped that his fame and future prospects might not be injured on account of that for which he was in no way to blame. Ar. Ronk read his own affidavit, setting forth in addition to the above lacts that he neither asked nor received any leelfor his services, that he was not familiar with the election laws, and therefore told Conkiin and Hogan to call on the chief inspector to see if it was all right; that the only crimnalty in the whole transaction was Hogan personliying Conkiin and swearing that he was Conkiin and signing his name. He also read other affidavits, including that of Conkiin, in which the latter states that the affidavit signed by himselt, on which the order to show cause was granted, was prepared in Mr. Fellows' office, and that he signed the same without knowing its contents. The Court took the affidavits, reserving its decision.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS-SPECIAL TERM,

Rent of an Armory and Drillroom.
Before Judge Larremore.
Some time since application on behalf of Levi Stockwell was made in this Court, before Judge Robinson, for a peremptory mandamus against Robinson, for a peremptory mandamus against the Comptroller, directing payment of $18,000, claimed to be due as arrearages for rent of a portion of premises on the corner of Broadway and Fourth street, used by the city as an armory and drilfroom. An alternative writ was granted, and upon the return to this writ there was yesterday a lengthy argument. For the city it was claimed that the rent charged was exorbitant and the reverse ground was taken for the lessor. Judge Larremore took the papers.

Captain McGloskey—a title given by courtesy to the chief of the officers in attendance upon the Court of General Sessions-claims that under an old statute he is entitled to receive $2,500 salary, Mr. Green, the Comptroller, has different views on the subject, and insists that under a more recent statute his pay is fixed at $1.200 a year. To settle this dispute application was made yesterday for a peremptory mandamus compelling the Comptroller to pay the extra $1,300 a year from May 1, 1872, the date of Captain McGloskey's appointment. Judge Larremore, after hearing the argument, reserved his decision in the matter.
